

Bond issue called by Hondo City Council

The City Council of Hondo has called for a bond election on Saturday, February 9, for the purpose of constructing a new library, and for an automated sprinkler system for the Hondo Golf Course. Total amount of the proposed bond issue is $200,000.

Leslie R. Cotton, representative of Russ Securities Corporation, explained that February 9 is the earliest date on which such an election could be held, because of a thirty-day notice requirement and a twenty-day absentee voting minimum.

Balloting will be at the Hondo City Hall, with absentee ballots to be turned in at the same location. Voters may elect to approve either or both projects, or may reject both.

A month ago, Council members voted to submit a bond issue as soon as possible for what was seen then as a three-part project including funds for library, golf course sprinkler system, and improvements to the City's sewer system.

But Tuesday night Cotton told the aldermen that revenue bonds, such as the sewer bonds, must be sold separately from civic improvement bonds.

With that in mind, Council elected to wait until a figure can be obtained for improvements on the sewer system, plus figures on expansion and improvements to the City Electric System, before submitting those two projects in a separate bond election.

Passage of the present bond issue would raise taxes by a maximum of 12 cents per $100 valuation, explained Cotton.

This would be necessitated by the first-year obligation of $35,454. Assuming a 90% collection rate, the payment would require a 44 cent tax, or about 12 cents higher than the present rate. Hondo's present collection rate approaches 95% at present. Additionally, Mayor Barry produced several comparative documents which show Hondo to have exceptionally low tax rate and net debt.

After a long discussion, in which Councilmen Chapman and Mueller favored waiting for economic instabilities to settle and Stanga and Gwartney favored putting the issue before the public as soon as possible, Gwartney introduced a motion calling for an election as follows: that a bond election be called on February 9 in the amount of $200,000, to be divided into $150,000 for a new public library and $50,000 for automated sprinkler system at the Hondo Golf Course.

Councilman Pedroza seconded the motion, and it passed unanimously.

A special called meeting of the Council will be held next Tuesday, January 15, to iron out details of the election.

The Council voted unanimously to employ Jack Graves, who designed the City Municipal complex built in 1964, to design a new library building. No architect's fee will be due should the bond election fail.

HISTORICALLY IMPRESSIVE

... would have to be the way I would describe the opening of the Texas Constitutional Convention of 1974 in Austin Tuesday.

Thanks to Jerry Hall of the Constitutional Revision Commission and the Anvil Herald, I had a front row seat in the packed House of Representatives. And I liked most of what I saw.

Texas A&M University students, exes, fans, followers and others can certainly take pride in the presentation of colors by a contingent of the Ross Volunteers. They were terrific.

Next came three fine renditions of patriotic songs by a choral group from Texas Southern University. They received a two-minute standing ovation for their singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

After Gov. Briscoe opened the ceremonies, Lt. Gov. William Hobby served as temporary chairman until the 181 delegates [not without some dissenting votes] elected Price Daniel Jr. as president of the Convention.

A historical note shows that the president of Constitutional Convention of 1875, the one that wrote our present constitution, was a Col. Pickett from Liberty County. This is also where the 1974 president hails from.

After that the Convention quickly brought every one back to reality, for the old human and political instinct certainly came out in the delegates as they began challenging many items in the proposed permanent rules of the Convention.

At this time, I am not certain we will get a new constitution to vote on in 1974, although the law says they will pass one out to the people this year.

One thing I am sure about: this is an important document the 181 delegates are working on. And they will need to know the thoughts of the public.

Let's give them our thoughts on education, taxation, county and city government, judiciary and all the other subjects covered by a constitution.

Write or call your representative, John Poerner. Let him know what you think. That way he can have some public feedback on which to base his decisions.

... is going to cover us within the next 25 years if some of our countrymen don't have a change of heart and stop throwing their refuse just anywhere they wish.

Have you driven lately all the way east on 18th Street to where it connects with the Bandera highway? Well, if rubble, beer cans, and other junk offends your eyes, then don't go that way.

It's always been puzzling to me why a drunken bunch of people think they have to dump their cans, packs and other junk on the side of the road, or wherever they empty them.

The State is attempting to stop the flow of garbage on roadsides, but somehow I feel, until the people of our city and state change their attitudes, they are barking up a hard tree.

If a Highway Patrolman sees someone toss out litter on highways, beaches or park land, that someone is a 100-to-1 shot to get a ticket.

And if they get one, they are better than a 9-to-1 to draw a fine of $25 to $200.

Some 800 Texans discovered that in 1972, and more than 900 in 1973. But that is just a drop in the old bucket compared to the number who go merrily on their way cluttering up the world because "it belongs to them" and they "are not accountable to anyone, much less their fellowman."

I think there should be a law passed where any citizen who sees someone littering can take the license number and mail it in and the offender will get a ticket.

GRANDPARENTS

... are twice as proud of grandchildren as they were their own offsprings. Or, does it just seem that way?

Anyway, Bill and Jerry Berger are not letting the grandparent image down. They are nuts about their young granddaughter.

In fact, Jerry came up with the idea of printing a bumper sticker that lets the whole world know, or will if you follow its advice which says: "Ask Me About My Grandchild."

Now, don't be surprised if you see Patricia and me driving around with one on our car. And if you look closely this weekend you just might see three strange little boys inside the car. That is if Amtrak doesn't break down between here and California so they can arrive.

Back to the bumper sticker. Any proud grandparent who would like to either have one for their bumper or their house might pick up one [or more] at the Anvil Herald office for a nominal fee after next week.

"This schedule also will affect the school tax and business offices," Flory said. "They will now operate from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m."

Henry Niethoefner and Ralph Hauger, representing the Hondo

Retail Merchants Association, met with the board Tuesday night to discuss the changes.

Niethoefner, who is president of that organization, said some merchants had talked about opening later in the mornings. "Of course, some open at 9 a.m. now. So the decision will have to be up to the individual merchant."

DST makes school bells tardy

School bells will be a little tardy in the morning from now on, thanks to Daylight Saving Time. They will ring at 9 a.m. each morning effective Thursday, Jan. 10.

"This change was brought about by DST," Supt. Kenneth Flory said Wednesday after the school board met Tuesday night to set the new schedule.

Mainly it is a safety measure to prevent children from having to walk or ride bicycles to school while it is still dark."

School bus schedules will be 30 minutes later than the previous schedule, and Flory said that he and the board will study the situation closely to see if other changes need to be made.

Don Windrow earns honor

The 1973 Joe Freeman Award for "outstanding community service to agriculture" will be presented to Don A. Windrow recognizing him as the distinguished Bexar County "man in agriculture" for 1973.

The award, given by the Greater San Antonio Chamber of Commerce's Farm and Ranch Committee, will be presented to Windrow on January 23, at 12:15 p.m. luncheon in Pearl Brewery's Jersey Lilly Room, in San Antonio.

The Joe Freeman Award originated 15 years ago and is presented each year to an agricultural leader selected by the former recipients.

Windrow, a resident of San Antonio, retired in 1970 as an area conservationist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. During his 2 years with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Soil Conservation Service and as a county agent, Windrow has been recognized as one of the outstanding leaders of the agricultural industry in Southwest Texas in areas of brush control, grass seeding projects, soil, water and plant conservation, general land improvement, and wildlife programs.

Looking at 1974 with rosy glasses, the directors of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce Monday voted a budget of $10,500 to promote the city for the coming year.

This is approximately $1,000 more than approved for 1973.

In other action, President Bruce T. Foster appointed committee chairmen for 1974: Industrial Liaison-Larry Oefinger; Agribusiness-J. D. Schmidt; Beautification-Nancy Fridle; Tourism-Burnis

Lawrence; Highway-Franklin Wiesers; Ranching-Bruce Foster; Farming-Bob Van de Walle; Legislative-Kenneth Flory.

Directors appointed J. D. Schmidt to fill the term of Julius Alevoet, who resigned due to a conflict with his work schedule.

Directors also approved a motion to ask for a 25 cent handling fee for the new Medina County Trails Map.

Larry Oefinger reported that the Texas Industrial Commission has approved an application by the Hondo Economic Improvement Corporation requesting it be included in the Rural Development Area.

The Committee adopted motions to pay $37.00 per day for each day the delegate is in attendance at a meeting of the Convention of one of its committees. This shall be the emolument received by the delegate for his service to the Convention.

Also the Committee authorized a per diem of $35.00 per day for each day the delegate is in attendance at a meeting of the Convention or one of its committees, which shall be reimbursed to the delegate in lieu of actual expenses for food, lodging and other expenses incidental to his service to the Convention.

Mileage and transportation expenses incidental to his service to the Convention.

Mileage and transportation expenses shall be paid at the same rates as provided in the Appropriation Act of the Sixty-Third Texas Legislature, Regular Session, for authorized travel reasonably necessary to conduct the business of the Convention and for no more than one trip per week to and from the delegate's home district to attend a meeting of the Convention or a committee thereof.

This is a change from the usual December date," President Bruce Foster said. "But things were getting so crowded around that time of the year so we felt this was the best way to alleviate some of the pressure."

Foster is working on the project of obtaining a speaker for the event next year.

Banquet switched

The third Monday night of January, 1975, is the date set for annual Hondo Chamber of Commerce Banquet, it was decided Monday by the Board of Directors.

Trail map popularity extremely high

Medina County is on the map, and how!

That's the Medina County Trails Map -- and it is proving extremely popular at this time.

Printed only last month the map, which depicts by pictures and copy historic and scenic sites in and near Medina County, has hit the top of the request list at the Hondo Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Lillian Porter, executive secretary, estimates that at least 100 of them have been mailed to people in San Antonio area.

To prove the point:
"Dear Mrs. Porter:
"Thank you for sending a copy of your new Medina County Trails

Map. You are to be congratulated on developing such a unique guide to natural and manmade historical and scenic sites in your county.

"Since our State Commission will be holding their January quarterly meeting in San Antonio and will probably be going up to Lake Medina in a group and we would like to give copies of this map to the members on our Commission. Also, we would like to have some copies in our files for distribution to other interested groups. We would, therefore, appreciate if very much if you could send us 50 copies of this map. Sincerely, Truett Latimer, executive director, Texas Historical Commission."

Another example:

"Dear Mrs. Porter:

"Thank you for sending us a copy of the very attractive new Medina County Trails Map. It is, indeed, an unusual map, and we are very pleased to have a reference copy for our files. There are many places of historic or scenic interest within Medina County, and the trails map is an excellent way to direct visitors to them."

Traeger accepts committee

WASHINGTON, DC -- State Senator John A. Traeger of Seguin has accepted an invitation to serve on the Intergovernmental Relations Committee of the National Legislative Conference.

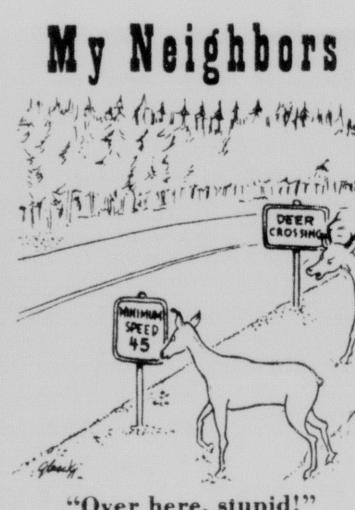

The Committee, composed of some 250 Legislators from every State, is the major federal-state policy making arm of the National Legislative Conference, the national organization representing 7,600 State Legislators across the country.

During the year the IRC will be developing policy statements for NLC consideration in the areas of commerce and transportation, government operations, human resources, natural resources, law enforcement and criminal justice, community affairs and education. A special committee on energy has just been established to work with the IRC.

The adopted policy of the IRC provides an invaluable representative state legislative viewpoint on significant intergovernmental issues and serves as a framework to guide legislators and staff representing the NLC in extensive contacts with Congress and federal executive departments.

The newly-selected Inter governmental Relations Committee held its first meeting in Washington, December 27-28. During this meeting Legislators met with federal officials and Congressmen to discuss significant issues in their relevant subject area.

Senator Bentsen writes

In praise of America

At a time when it seems the worldwide fashion to downgrade America, I was gratified recently to read a newspaper article by a Canadian commentator, Gordon Sinclair, in praise of our country.

I want to share with you much of what Mr. Sinclair says -- and some thoughts he inspires in me.

He points out that America lifted Germany, Japan, and, to a lesser extent, Britain and Italy, out of "the debris of war" by pouring in billions of dollars in aid.

He notes that we were the ones who propped up the franc when it was in danger of collapsing in 1956 -- and our "reward" was to be insulted and swindled on the streets of Paris."

Who is it, Sinclair asks in his Toronto commentary, who rushes in to help

"when distant cities are hit by earthquakes," if it is not America? Yet when "59 American communities were flattened by tornadoes" last spring, nobody even offered a helping hand.

And Mr. Sinclair touches upon the daring of the American frontier spirit when he asks, "Why does no other land on earth even consider putting a man or woman on the moon?" Japanese technology produces radios, German technology produces automobiles; but American technology, he points out, sends men to the moon and brings them safely home again.

Idealism of Americans

When it comes to scandals, we put ours "right in the store window for everybody to look at." What other country's citizens would be so outraged by such happenings? We Americans expect more from ourselves and from our government. We are unwilling to abandon our idealism, for we are the bearers of the torch of freedom. Perhaps that is one reason we are the oldest constitutional government on earth.

Our transportation system is threatened by the energy crisis. Mr. Sinclair reminds us that "when the railways of France, Germany, and India were breaking down through age, it was the Americans who rebuilt them." On the other hand, "when the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central went broke, nobody loaned them an old caboose."

Mr. Sinclair goes on to say that he can name 5,000 times when Americans raced to help of other people in trouble, but that he can't even name one time when someone else raced to Americans in trouble.

Then he reaches this important conclusion: "Our neighbors have faced it alone, and I'm one Canadian who is tired of hearing them kicked around. They will come out of this thing with their flag high."

U. S. Will Rise To Challenge

And we will, too. We have recently been through trying months, and difficult days lie ahead; but this is a harder time than the long midnight of World War II, when we fought for our lives on two sides of the world? Or the Great Depression, when soup lines were commonplace and no work was to be found? Or the Civil War, when our nation was split asunder? I think not.

Already, for example, we are beginning to deal with the energy shortage. In the month of November Americans reduced oil and gas consumption by 7.3 percent, and we did it on a strictly voluntary basis.

People are cutting back -- turning down thermostats, using less electricity, driving more slowly. And we have shown many times that we are capable of further sacrifices, if they are needed.

Who is it, Sinclair asks in his Toronto commentary, who rushes in to help

"when distant cities are hit by earthquakes," if it is not America? Yet when "59 American communities were flattened by tornadoes" last spring, nobody even offered a helping hand.

And Mr. Sinclair touches upon the daring of the American frontier spirit when he asks, "Why does no other land on earth even consider putting a man or woman on the moon?" Japanese technology produces radios, German technology produces automobiles; but American technology, he points out, sends men to the moon and brings them safely home again.

We Americans expect more from ourselves and from our government. We are unwilling to abandon our idealism, for we are the bearers of the torch of freedom. Perhaps that is one reason we are the oldest constitutional government on earth.

Our transportation system is threatened by the energy crisis. Mr. Sinclair reminds us that "when the railways of France, Germany, and India were breaking down through age, it was the Americans who rebuilt them." On the other hand, "when the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central went broke, nobody loaned them an old caboose."

Already, for example, we are beginning to deal with the energy shortage. In the month of November Americans reduced oil and gas consumption by 7.3 percent, and we did it on a strictly voluntary basis.

People are cutting back -- turning down thermostats, using less electricity, driving more slowly. And we have shown many times that we are capable of further sacrifices, if they are needed.

But somehow, many people seem to have overlooked the depth of our ability in the continuing wave of criticism leveled at our government, our economy, our people, our way of life. At a time when many foreign governments appear to be gloating over our present troubles, it is particularly uplifting to hear from this Canadian broadcaster who pays tribute to American's generosity; who describes us as "The most generous and possibly the least appreciated people on all the earth."

We can be grateful to friends like Gordon Sinclair who are willing to speak up for us, at a time when we need it.

Chamber Corner

Since the story on memberships was written George Schmidt dropped by to join the ranks of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce. George made the 221st member to join for 1974.

There are still several 1973 members who are not on the 1974 rolls, but I imagine some of them have let it slip their minds. We are close to a record membership (we had 225 last year) and can go over the number if 1973 members rejoin. We know that because about 26 of the members we have now are brand new.

So if it has slipped your mind, gotten lost or misplaced, please dig it out and join us in promoting Hondo and its community area.

Some letters we would like to pass on:

"Dear Mrs. Porter:

"We are pleased to acknowledge the resolution adopted by the Hondo Chamber of Commerce supporting retention of the good roads amendment in the new state constitution.

"This timely action by your organization effectively demonstrates public support of an adequate highway system to meet the needs of our growing communities. Sincerely, Eugene W. Robbins, Tex-as Good Roads Association."

From Oklahoma:

"Dear Sirs:
"Please send me information on quail and deer hunting leases. I am interested in day or week leases. Thank you, Chick Stanton, Bartlesville, Oklahoma."

Letter samples on County Trails Map, which is hotter than a pancake just off the stove:

"Kindly send me your Trails Map of Medina County as described in the newspaper. Sincerely, Edward P. Micek."

"I would appreciate a copy of Trails Map. Thank you, L. W. Weckerling, Austin."

"Dear Sirs: As a tourist who is interested in running down historical sites in Texas, please send me the new Medina County Trails map. I have traveled some in the great Edwards Plateau region and so, will be interested in what the map has in the way of drives. Thank you, Rodney C. Loehr, winter visitor to McAllen, Texas."

And a final letter comes from Palo Alto, California:

"Would you please send our office a street map of Hondo? Sincerely yours, J. Paul Lindeberg."

Soil test data released by Texas A&M

By Glenn Bragg
County Extension Agent

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Soil Testing Laboratory has released a summary of soil test results for Medina County. The summary includes samples tested between January 1971 and July 1972.

Of the 26 samples tested, 15 percent were either low or very low in phosphorus and 4 percent were low or very low in potassium. Most soils are low in nitrogen, therefore it appears that many Medina County soils are deficient in nitrogen, and phosphorus (and in some cases potassium).

However, this summary does not tell about your soils, for such information you need to have samples tested from each field at least every 2 or 3 years if you are going to keep up with changes taking place in the soil due to cropping and fertilization.

Now is a good time to collect soil samples for testing. Act early and plan next years fertilization to take advantage of plant foods in the soil. Act now to allow more time to find the fertilizer you need. Phosphorus can be applied well ahead of planting while nitrogen can be applied after soil temperatures drop below 50 degrees F. Efficiency from nitrogen fertilizers is reduced when warm, wet conditions prevail between application and planting.

Show pool headquartered at Chamber

Hondo Chamber of Commerce again will serve as a collection pool for Hondo merchants or individuals who wish to contribute for the purpose of buying livestock at the Junior Livestock Show in February.

Tommy Hollmig will also serve as a bidder for the pool, known as Hondo Merchants.

"Anyone wishing to contribute money for the pool may send, or bring their check, to the Hondo Chamber of Commerce office," President Bruce Foster said.

Ambulance program starts

The new city-county Emergency Ambulance Service units have been deployed for service in Hondo, Castroville, and Devine.

Since the new program started operation January 1, numerous calls have already been made by all three units.

Vehicles for the service include three 1974 Chevrolet Suburban panel truck-like chassis, each equipped with sufficient emergency equipment and lights to meet state and federal guidelines.

Additionally, crews of volunteer workers for all three units have already been organized and are operating on a 24-hour alert basis.

New Deputy named

Medina County Sheriff's Department is now back up to full strength with the hiring of a new deputy, announced Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder this week.

He is James Ross, of Big Foot, a former member of the Sheriff's office here.

Ross previously worked with the Medina County Sheriff's office for a period of about two years.

He is the former police chief of Pearsall, and has also worked with the Corpus Christi police department.

Sheriff Hitzfelder said Ross has had extensive experience in the law enforcement field.

Soil test data released by Texas A&M

By Glenn Bragg
County Extension Agent

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Soil Testing Laboratory has released a summary of soil test results for Medina County. The summary includes samples tested between January 1971 and July 1972.

Of the 26 samples tested, 15 percent were either low or very low in phosphorus and 4 percent were low or very low in potassium. Most soils are low in nitrogen, therefore it appears that many Medina County soils are deficient in nitrogen, and phosphorus (and in some cases potassium).

He held a similar post in Bexar County from 1952 through 1966 before being promoted to area conservationist for 10 Hill Country counties.

However, this summary does not tell about your soils, for such information you need to have samples tested from each field at least every 2 or 3 years if you are going to keep up with changes taking place in the soil due to cropping and fertilization.

Now is a good time to collect soil samples for testing. Act early and plan next year's fertilization to take advantage of plant foods in the soil. Act now to allow more time to find the fertilizer you need. Phosphorus can be applied well ahead of planting while nitrogen can be applied after soil temperatures drop below 50 degrees F. Efficiency from nitrogen fertilizers is reduced when warm, wet conditions prevail between application and planting.

Show pool headquartered at Chamber

Hondo Chamber of Commerce again will serve as a collection pool for Hondo merchants or individuals who wish to contribute for the purpose of buying livestock at the Junior Livestock Show in February.

Tommy Hollnig will also serve as a bidder for the pool, known as Hondo Merchants.

"Anyone wishing to contribute money for the pool may send, or bring their check, to the Hondo Chamber of Commerce office," President Bruce Foster said.

Ambulance program starts

The new city-county Emergency Ambulance Service units have been deployed for service in Hondo, Castroville, and Devine.

Since the new program started operation January 1, numerous calls have already been made by all three units.

Vehicles for the service include three 1974 Chevrolet Suburban panel truck-like chassis, each equipped with sufficient emergency equipment and lights to meet state and federal guidelines.

Additionally, crews of volunteer workers for all three units have already been organized and are operating on a 24-hour alert basis.

New Deputy named

Medina County Sheriff's Department is now back up to full strength with the hiring of a new deputy, announced Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder this week.

He is James Ross, of Big Foot, a former member of the Sheriff's office here.

Ross previously worked with the Medina County Sheriff's office for a period of about two years.

He is the former police chief of Pearsall, and has also worked with the Corpus Christi police department.

Sheriff Hitzfelder said Ross has had extensive experience in the law enforcement field.

Den 2

Cub Scouts of Pack 219, Den 2, had a good time at their first den meeting of the year. The boys enjoyed preparing grilled cheese sandwiches and hot cocoa.

After the young chefs had their fill, and the mess cleaned up, a game of "Twister" was enjoyed by all. Ask Scott Glowka about his toasted finger sandwich he prepared.

Next week the scouts will tour the KRME radio station and the Anvil Herald office in Hondo.

The boys are anxiously awaiting for the Pinewood Derby Races at the end of January. All are hopeful that their car will win.

Den 2 welcomes their new scout, Robert Foster.

Special thanks are extended to all the persons who gave their support toward the scouts' candle-selling project.

Pinch Pennies

Cooperation of all families in Hondo in reducing the use of electric appliances could play a major role in the current energy crisis.

The savings per family, according to Gene Harrison, manager of the City Electric System, might amount to only a few dollars a month but this multiplied by all the families in the area could reach a sizeable sum.

These dollars saved mean kilowatt hours saved and that's of vital importance to the City of Hondo, Harrison said. To show how pennies or kilowatt hours can be saved, a study was made in the use of 60-watt globes in the place of 100-watt globes. The saving for the average family was $24.57 per year.

The City of Hondo charges one and one-half cents per kilowatt hour, as do most of the towns and cities in this area. Everyone can save pennies and help conserve energy at the same time. The following list was compiled using an average family and the going rate per kilowatt hour:

All she wrote

by Edna McDade

Winter has been described by a well-known columnist whose words have a "weigh" with this admiring reader, as "the only season which cannot decide when to come on-stage, and when to depart."

According to withered leaves on the patio vines, ice on the bird bath and the urge to plug in the electric blanket for the first time since last winter, the shivery season has now apparently decided to "come on-stage" in these parts.

It will be spring's turn to call curtain-time on the br-r-rr season which will find many of us ready for the change in Texas, land of subject-to-change-without-notice weather.

Before I leave the weather subject, and while the gears are trying to get going on other matters worthy of inclusion herein, let me include a few statistics about our CC weather for 1973 as space fillers:

No real severe weather; the year's total rainfall of 43.53 inches was 15% above normal and edging toward the 1888 all-time record of 48.16 inches.

No, I wasn't among those present then but, since then, I learned to read and that's what the weather service reported in its resume as of Dec. 31, '73.

Probably while fidgeting around trying to find busy work between head-countings, the Census Bureau has now "adopted sexless job titles for 52 selected occupations." Could be an attempt to ameliorate [that's gobbledegook for pacify] the Women's Bureau and the Manpower Administration folks who ordered the name changes.

Call yourself a sportsMAN? Not now. Choose from fisher, hunter, trapper, etc. Drop that MAN, man!

Those among us who have been on daily maid duty in our homes all these years may now be identified as "private household cleaners."

Ain't progress grand?

A 92-year old retired dentist of Florida is making his contribution to the energy crisis in his own inimitable way. He observes Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week as "silent days." No talking, period. A form of conversation conservatism?

The energy thus saved he devotes to reading, writing and other self-imposed interests that require "no audible speech." [What if he hits his thumb instead of the nail he decides to nail?]

The good Doc says he first decided on the silence bit 25 years ago. "At that time," he said "I decided that I would keep silent for months on end."

On end, mind you!

An economist recently said something about economists in general which one reporter says would be even more applicable to politicians:

[Politicians] spend most of their time . . . "optimizing the arrangement of the deck chairs on the Titanic."

A good verb, OPTIMIZE, but new to me. And, the more I think about the economist's sage observation, the more I'm inclined to agree about its Now-if-I-had-had-my-way implications.

Even if you're so inclined, this is no kind of weather to appear in what converts to the trend sometimes call the all-together, Shiver me timbers!

But, of interest only To-whom-it-may-concern, comes word from the Cost of Living Council that "Certain industries having a relatively insignificant effect on inflation in this country" will no longer be under price controls.

Among such decontrolled [from price, that is] industries [?] are Nudist Camps, now exempted from Phase 4 regulations.

Off again, on again, gone again . . . That's our Uncle Sam Flanagan!

One way to keep track of the goings and comings of Hondo R. A. FASELER is to read the Texas Farm Bureau News.

From it I learned that Bob, as a director of TFB District 10, will be among the voting delegates planning to attend the 55th annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Atlantic City, N.J., Jan. 13-19.

Note to DORA MAE, just in case she is elected to pack his suitcase: A long-range general weather prediction for this time of year in that Yankee-land general area threatens "much colder" without specifying just how much. Might even be what Texans call 2-blanket and long handles weather.

Intentional or not, the "Fresh" sign above the picture of RUTH and "Uncle Ray" JENNINGS in the last week's paper applies to Ruth who always looks "Fresh as a daisy" wherever she goes.

However, her pose reflected a solemnity, and perhaps a bit of a nostalgic mood, which friends of this devoted couple, who have contributed so generously to the life of their community, will understand and share.

"End of an era," said the story. "But we loved it and we'll miss it," said Uncle Ray.

"Won't we all?", says this appreciative friend.

City bans loose-leaf pickups

The Hondo City Council voted to buy a new police car, improve the City Park, and tie some strings to pickups of autumn leaves in Hondo, all during Tuesday night's regular monthly meeting.

Told by Police Chief Jim Shofner that the City's 1970 Dodge patrol car is in need of repairs totaling $600, the Council voted to advertise for bids for a new automobile rather than to repair the present one.

In another fiscal matter,

Council voted to spend

$10,000 in Federal Revenue Sharing money to improve the area directly west of the City Park. The money had been dedicated to that purpose for some time, but the aldermen waited until the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department could submit a plan for development of the new area. With receipt of the plan last month, the Council voted to let City Manager Fritz Leinweber study the proposal and decide which improvements can be made within the $10,000 limits.

Leinweber will report back to the Council at its special called meeting next

Tuesday night.

In non-money matters,

Street Commissioner

Lloyd Hermes passed on to the Council a complaint of his trash-pickup crews

regarding picking up autumn leaves.

"My men have to spend extra time for people who just pile their leaves in the alley without putting them in a box or sack. This is unnecessary, and wastes time."

On a motion by Hilmer Mueller, seconded by Gip Chapman, the Council voted unanimously to instruct street and trash crews to refuse to pick up unboxed leaves, or leaves in boxes that can't be thrown away. That resolution is in effect immediately.

Electric Use

Gene Harrison, manager of the City Electric Service, reported that energy conservation measures on a voluntary basis are working well in Hondo.

"We show a decrease of 9,633 kilowatt hours for December compared to December of 1972," Harrison reported. "This is with a net increase in meters within the City."

Harrison noted that while receipts are up for electrical service, the City's share will drop because of increased costs of supplying power.

Resolutions

The City Council passed a resolution forbidding the donation of private land to the Texas Highway Department without first having an independent appraisal, and an offer at fair market value of the land.

A proposed resolution which would make refusal to pay for ambulance service a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment, was tabled pending study of its constitutionality by City Attorney Hugh Meyer.

TELEPHONE TIMES

November 19, 1973

The dial on a coin telephone outside a general store in Yancey reveals that four-digit dialing is still in effect. At right, Hondo Wire Chief Jim Hager emerges from the central office.

Yancey Central Office Far From Being Fancy

of a local call. Yancey is one of a handful of exchanges where four-digit dialing remains.

Long Distance calls placed from Yancey are switched through the San Antonio office.

Alas, the days of the Yancey office are numbered. By late 1975, it will be closed, and calling to and from the tiny town will be handled by equipment in the Hondo office.

Until then, though, the equipment at Yancey will continue to hum and click unnoticed in its "home" just behind the post office.

Yancey, Tex., Population 186 according to the Texas Almanac, fits the old saying perfectly: "Don't blink when you drive through it or you'll miss it."

Located about 50 miles southwest of San Antonio, Yancey is little more than a wide spot in the road. But it does have a telephone central office that serves about 170 telephones.

Although large central offices and modern equipment handle most of the telecommunications needs, many smaller offices, like the one in Yancey, are of great importance to the network.

TELEPHONE TIMES

November 19, 1973

The dial on a coin telephone outside a general store in Yancey reveals that four-digit dialing is still in effect. At right, Hondo Wire Chief Jim Hafner emerges from the central office.

Yancey Central Office Far From Being Fancy

leased by Southwestern Bell along with the land it sits on. The joint building/property lease is the only one of its kind in the San Antonio Area for a central office.

The building doesn't even have a window—a luxury most backyard playhouses enjoy.

The central office equipment was manufactured by the North Electric Manufacturing Co., and was installed in March, 1950. It has no switches, utilizing relays instead. Eight batteries generate the power necessary to run the equipment.

Presently, residents of Yancey need only dial the last four digits of a local call. Yancey is one of a handful of exchanges where four-digit dialing remains.

Long Distance calls placed from Yancey are switched through the San Antonio office.

Alas, the days of the Yancey office are numbered. By late 1975, it will be closed, and calling to and from the tiny town will be handled by equipment in the Hondo office.

Until then, though, the equipment at Yancey will continue to hum and click unnoticed in its "home" just behind the post office.

Yancey, Tex., population 186 according to the Texas Almanac, fits the old saying perfectly: "Don't blink when you drive through it or you'll miss it."

Located about 50 miles southwest of San Antonio, Yancey is little more than a wide spot in the road. But it does have a telephone central office that serves about 170 telephones.

Although large central offices and modern equipment handle most of the telecommunications needs, many smaller offices, like the one in Yancey, are of great importance to the network.

Library News

Hondo Public Library has received several Memorial donations for books to be dedicated to the late James R. Duncan. These donors are the Medina County Tax office, Lillian G. Brucks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGarity and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Fly.

In memory of Minnie Schweers Fuos and Martha Schweers Heyen, a contribution was made by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Newton of Del Rio. Another Memorial book, dedicated to the late Louis W. Clift was given to the library by Virginia Clift.

Other books were presented by Mrs. George Bendele in memory of Mike Bendele.

A recent visitor to the library was Jack Harrison, who made a gift of his book, "The Story of an American Prisoner of War," to Mrs. Lottie Maw, librarian.

Now available to readers is a name index to A. J. Sowell's "Early Settlers and Indian Fighters of Southwest Texas," compiled by Jim and Doris Menke, who are well-known for their research into the history of Medina County and Hondo.

Mrs. Ward Pope has given a 1974 Historical Diary-Calendar for use in the library.

Other recent contributors include Mrs. Eva Nixon, books; Dr. John Jennings, Wall Street Journals; Lela Stout, a display of egg-craft Christmas scenes; Helen Richter, Illustrated London-Times and News and holly leaves; Lori Fridle, junior fiction and Easy books, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Dittmar, books and magazines.

Paperbacks were received from Mrs. Louis Landers, Gladys Lindenberg and Mike Nester. A one-year subscription to American Opinion was the gift of the Hondo Train Committee.

Many varied magazines were given by Mrs. Robert Teague, Cindy Winkler for the Hondo Junior Service League, Edna Molina, the Paul Reily family and Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Redus.

Mrs. Maw suggests a New Year's resolution for all those persons who are holding overdue books: Return these books and share your reading pleasure with others. The bookdrop is always available. Regular library hours are 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Owls lead district

Hondo continued its winning ways on the basketball court with a district victory over Carrizo Springs, 69-40.

The Owls led all the way in the contest. With a slim 26-23 lead at halftime, Hondo pulled out in front with a 27-9 third period and went on to an easy win.

Co-leaders for Hondo in the game were Mike Groff and Paul Richards, each with 20 points.

Nest-highest was Tony Hackebeil with 11 points; followed by Bobby Rios with 8, Ray Garcia and Gene McAnelly with 4 each, and Bob Spears with 2.

Hector Saenz scored 17 for Carrizo to lead Wildcat scorers. He was followed by Harry Perkins with 8 points; Billy John with 7, R. Ramos with 4, and J. Alaniz and Frank Ponce with 2 each.

In another district game Medina Valley smothered the Devine Warhorses 60-41.

Hondo is now 3-0 in district competition, but the Owls and Gene McAnelly took it on the chin again from Antonian's Apaches Tuesday night, 70-57.

The big-city boys cleaned up on Hondo, winning Freshmen, Junior Varsity, And Varsity contests on the Antonian home court.

During the varsity game, Gene McAnelly took a blow on the mouth which dislodged a tooth, but he gamely continued to play in the game. Hondo led 35-24 at the half, but Antonian out-scored the Owls 23-10 in the third quarter to gain the lead, then went out front farther with a 23-12 final quarter.

Greg DeWinne led all scorers with his 23 points, followed by Mario Estrada, also of Antonian, with 18 points.

Hondo was paced by Paul Richards with 14 points. Other Hondo scorers were Tony Hackebeil with 11 points, Ray Garcia and Mike Groff with 8, Bobby Rios with 4, and Wayne Westbrook with 2.

Brian Finger, Doug helvey, and Donnie Weynand have been dropped from the Owl roster for disciplinary reasons.

The Owls are now in uncontested first place in 28-AA, sporting a 3-0 district record. Tied at second place are Medina Valley and Devine, both 3-1, and Pearsall is fourth at 2-1.

The Hondo B-team put together a deadly offense to even their record at 3-3 with a 63-30 win over the Carrizo B squad. David Knowles led the Hondoans with 22 points, followed by Tobin Tilley with 10.

Antonian racked up 70 points against the Owl B-squad also, and the Owls could muster only 38

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Food for Fishermen

Most bass anglers like to stay out on the lake long after the lunch hour. In fact, very few fishermen want to return to shore at all—especially "just to eat."

So, take along some beef jerky on your next outing. Those strips of dried beef provide lots of energy and require no refrigeration. Besides that they take up but little space in the tackle box, or shirt pocket.

Handy Line Cutters

Those large size toenail clippers are also a "must" in the tackle box of today's bass fishermen. Reason is that nylon line (the current favorite) is very difficult to break. Although smaller in diameter and more flexible, it is tougher.

Good sharp knives will cut the line okay, but not as fast or as safe (in a bouncing boat) as clippers. The knife's place is in the pocket—and pockets are not too accessible when one is seated. Besides that, the knife has to be opened and closed each time it is used.

Most ardent anglers tie a strong string to pair of nail clippers and attach the string to the boat at some convenient spot close by the chair where most of the casting is done.

When it's time to change lures the angler merely reaches for the handy clippers, snips the line from the lure, ties on a new bait, trims the excess line and is ready to cast again in a very few seconds.

To the bass fisherman the time saved is important for one catches fish only when the bait is in the water.

Safe Gun Cutters

Every year someone is injured or killed while "cleaning" a gun. This never happens if the person, as soon as he picks up the firearm, opens the action and removes all ammunition that may be in the chamber and the magazine.

Hunting Companions

Choose your hunting companions carefully!

Some hunters just aren't safety conscious. Such individuals should not be selected as hunting buddies no matter how close they are as friends.

It's better to lose a friend, or to have an unhappy acquaintance, than to become a hunting statistic.

A lot of people think of boating as a summer sport and when winter comes they just set their boat up and forget it until spring.

There are some definite things they should do, especially to an outboard, before they set it up for the winter—but that's another story. Today I'm concerned with those people in South Texas who use their boats for recreation the year round.

sap your strength or, if necessary and, tests have shown, the multiple layers, with the air they have trapped between them, forms better insulation and wave action are usually just exactly opposite to what you're accustomed to in the summer.

Our winter days often start out very cold in the early morning, then become quite warm and pleasant by noon. Because of this several layers of light clothing are to be preferred to fewer, more bulky layers. As the day warms up you can shed layers as it becomes necessary and, tests have shown, the multiple layers, with the air they have trapped between them, forms better insulation and wave action are usually just exactly opposite to what you're accustomed to in the summer.

Anyone who hunts ducks or fishes from his boat in the wintertime should pay close attention to weather broadcasts, especially to the fronts moving into his area. If at all possible, watch them for several days ahead of time. Note the speed they're traveling and the disturbances they're creating.

Keep track of them; their speed and characteristics can change in a very short time. It's a good idea to carry a small transistorized radio in the boat with you and continue to check on the weather while you're on the water.

In the summertime there might be a legitimate reason for not wearing a life preserver although the law does require that one be "readily available." In the winter, the minute the water starts to get the least bit rough, no sane person would fail to stop and put on his life preserver and see that it's properly adjusted.

If you're suddenly dumped into that cold water, and it can happen in the blink of an eye, you're going to need all the help you can get.

If it's cold enough for you to need heat in your boat or duck blind; why not consider one of the catalytic heaters? They put out a lot of heat, they burn for a long time on one filling, and, best of all, there is no open flame. One word of caution, though, fill, prime, and start the heater on dry land if at all possible. They do put out quite a lot of flame until they heat up and start operating. They're not cheap, but when you need one, they're worth every penny of their cost.

Another danger that duck hunters and wade fishermen face is the bulky chest waders they must wear for protection from the cold water. If you step off into a deep hole, the waders, of course, will fill with water and, if someone is not nearby to lend a hand, another fatality could be chalked up in the statistics.

Boating in wintertime can lead to some fine recreational opportunities, but a little extra precaution may be needed to keep it the safe, enjoyable sport that it is.

D'Hanis opens district Friday

The D'Hanis Cowboy basketball team will enter district play tomorrow night at La Pryor, against the Bulldogs.

In their last game, January 2, against the Brackettville Tigers, D'Hanis won by a 51-43 margin. After leading 13-2 early in the game, D'Hanis held on to a slim 2-point

A lot of people think of boating as a summer sport and when winter comes they just set their boat up and forget it until spring. There are some definite things they should do, especially to an outboard, before they set it up for the winter -- but that's another story. Today I'm concerned with those people in South Texas who use their boats for recreation the year round.

Winter presents some safety hazards to boaters that are not present, or at least are minimized, in the summer. Cold water can sap your strength or, if layers as it becomes necessary and, tests have shown, the multiple layers, with the air they have trapped between them, forms better insulation and is warmer than a single thick garment. I have found that the outside layer should be a light nylon or plastic rainsuit (with hood). This takes care of cold spray, breaks the wind, and is light and comfortable.

Anyone who hunts ducks or fishes from his boat in the wintertime should pay close attention to weather broadcasts, especially to the fronts moving into his area. If at all possible, watch them for several days ahead of time. Note the speed they're traveling and the disturbances they're creating. If at all possible, watch them for several days ahead of time. Note the speed they're traveling and the disturbances they're creating. Keep track of them; their speed and characteristics can change in a very short time.

Today I'm concerned with those people in South Texas who use their boats for recreation the year round.

Winter presents some safety hazards to boaters that are not present, or at least are minimized, in the summer. Cold water can sap your strength or, if layers as it becomes necessary and, tests have shown, the multiple layers, with the air they have trapped between them, forms better insulation and is warmer than a single thick garment. I have found that the outside layer should be a light nylon or plastic rainsuit (with hood). This takes care of cold spray, breaks the wind, and is light and comfortable.

Anyone who hunts ducks or fishes from his boat in the wintertime should pay close attention to weather broadcasts, especially to the fronts moving into his area. Get in your word on new Constitution

A statewide tollfree telephone line which enables Texans all over the state to ask questions and offer suggestions on constitutional revision will continue to operate during the 1974 Constitutional Convention.

The telephone number is 1-800-292-9600.

The Texas Constitutional Information Center was originally established by the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission as part of its charge to inform the public of its activities.

The telephone line has averaged a high volume of calls from citizens with questions about the constitutional revision process or the Commission's proposed new Constitution for Texas.

During the first month of its existence, between November 15 and December 15, the center received an average of 48 calls on each working day. The number of calls ranged from a low of 15 on the first day of operation to a high of 143.

Information Center staff is equipped to answer many of the questions asked. Other questions will be referred to appropriate Convention research staff for written answers.

The Constitutional Revision Commission found the Information Center valuable in accurately answering citizen questions and receiving suggestions from those wishing to help with the Constitution.

Callers to date have included a broad cross-section of Texans - university professors interested in teaching material, lawyers trying to clear up technical questions, students writing papers on constitutional revision and a great number of citizens concerned about how a new Constitution would affect their lives.

The Convention Information Center will be located in the Convention Public Information Office in the Capitol. The number will continue to be 1-800-292-9600.
